TEAM IN SHAPE FOR ITS BIG GAME

Wake Forest to Play U. S. S. Franklin on Thanksgiving. Basketball Prospects.

[Special to The Times-Disputch.] Wake Forest, November 26.—After a week of hard practice the varsity has reunded into excellent form and will take three days of light work before Thanksgiving game to be played Durham with the United States ball has been played at this institu-tion only two touchdowns and two goals from fields were made on col-lege opponents. This year thirteen touchdowns and one field goal have been the result against college teams. Every opponent has been surprised at the remarkable improvement made over previous elevens of this institu-tion. All the men are in good conon. All the men are in good con-tion for the Thanksgiving game. Though three of last year's versity that are members of the football teams had little chance to win. This year the trip will be taken into Virbelial and college teams alone will be played. The first game will be played. The first game will be played Rebruary 5, with Randolph-Macon, at Ashland. The other teams which will be played are William and Mary, Emory and Henry, V. P. 1. University of Virginia, V. M. 1, and probably Reaneke College. The exact dates have not been settled on, but they will all be played during the week of February 5. The schedule on the home floor is

The schedule on the home floor is far from complete. The two games for he played during the anniversary selebration have been practically arranged. A. and M. will be played February 15, and V. P. I., on February 17. The games played on these two days are by far the biggest drawing caris of any athletic event of the college year. No games will be scheduled with Trinity and Carolina, as different matters cannot be agreed upon. Carocannot be agreed upon. Games in Rickm and Norfolk.

Ispecial to The Times-Dispatch.]

Lexington, Va., November 26.—Tomorrow afternoon the Washington and Lee squad will be given a short work-out just before they leave for New Orleans. En route to New Orleans they will stop over once for an afternoon's limbering up, but all hard work before the final game is now over. The men have not been driven hard during the past week. There have been but two scrimmages, one Wednesday and the final one Saturday. Some new plays have been learned for use in the Tulane game, but the main object of the coaches has been to keep the bunch running well together. Hurd, end; Burk, tackle, and Slater, quarter, are not eligible under the S. I. A. A. Tules, and their places have been filled by Brown, Miller and O'Quinn, all of whom have been alternating on the varsity during the whole scason. These changes, however, made the signal work of the last week doubly important. To all outward appearances Dr. Pollard has been successful in both of these particulars, the team is running as a unit desifite the loss of the regulars, and every man is in splendid of these particulars, the team is running as a unit desifite the loss of the regulars, and every man is in splendid condition. Despite cold weather the whole has gone through their tasks.

There is no saying now what Carolina did not even try to gain. They were thoroughly satisfied to save their secrets and their energy and to luck out on two safeties.

of these particulars, the team is running as a unit desifite the loss of the regulars, and every man is in splendid condition. Despite cold weather the whole has gone through their tasks;
cheerfully and gladly. Despite the defeat by Carolina the boys still have their pepper and a happy determination to beat Tulane or know the reason why.

The final standing of Washington and Lee for 1910 is bound to depend,
more or less, on the outcome of the Thanksgiving games at Riehmond and Norfolk. If Virginia defeats Carolina, all critics will, of course, piace Washington and Lee below both of these teams, but if Carolina beats Virginia,
the relative standing of Washington and Lee will still be a matter for argument. If V. P. L. after tying Carolina, when Washington and Lee lost should make a better showing against
A. and M. than did W. and L, they maybe placed above the team from Lexington, although V. P. I. and W. and L played A. and M. when the Tarheels
were at their best and on their home grounds. Washington and Lee fas no

Savannah, Ga., November 26.—When the shadows lift with the break of day to-merrow, thirteen staunch little racing cars will be sent off in the two-contests preliminary to the great vanderbilt cup race. Thirty minutes after the conclusion of these events the big race will start, and so evenly matched are the seven teams entered, that ne one to-night was willing to venture a prediction as to the outcome.

Never before has Savannah held so many automobiles within her limits. Six hundred visiting cars are here for the races.

Although few of the racers appeared.

Accidentally Shot to Death.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Bristoi, Va., November 26.—Edward
Smith, thirty years old, and blind, was snot to death by accident at Saginaw, a lumber camp in Western North Carolina, a few days ago. His gun was discharged when he fell. Smith was regarded ag the wonder of the mountains where he lived, for the reason that, although stone blind, he was able to roam the mountains and follow the bridle paths with the accuracy of a man with good eyes. Ho was classed of the strength of the streng

Governor Gray and County Tax, Geldings in Williams Stables, Victims of Fire.

Lexington, Ky., November 26.—In a fire at "Stockwood," the farm of Captain James Williams, at Spring Station, near Versailles, Ky., this afternoon, Governor Gray, winner of the American Derby at Jacksonville, Fla., last winter and this year's Latonia, Kentucky Derby, and County Tax, both geldings, burned to death. The fire, which was of unknown origin, destroyed the stables in which the horses were quartered, before any attempt could be made to rescue them. Both horses had been big money winners for Captain Williams on various race tracks in this country, as well as Canada.

founded, and in which he is the largest shareholder.

A letter was sent out yesterday by Mr. Colt to the shareholders of the company asking for their proxies for the next annual meeting. Already Mr. Colt has proxies for a large proportion of the capital stock outstanding, more than enough to control the meeting, but he issues the letter in order to put the matter squarely before the stockholders and to explain his positockholders and to explain his position.

It would appear from the circular letter of Mr. Colt that some of the 'tack of harmony' is due to the fact that Mr. Colt has obtained many proxies, and he declares that if any who have sent him their proxies have been in any manner misted or desire for any reason to withdraw the proxies, and will so notify him, they will be promptly returned.

Governor Gray was valued at $25,090 by his owner, and County Tax was held at $20,090. Shortly before the Kentucky Derby last spring, Captain Williams refused an offer of $20,000 for Governor Gray.

Besides having two derbies to his credit as a three-year-old, Governor Gray finished second in the Kentucky Derby, and was in the money in several rich stak-s on the Canadian tracks during the past summer.

County Tax, also a three-year-old, was a sprinter, and his best work was shown in six-furlong races. At the close of the Latonia meeting this month, both horses were retired to Captain Williams's stock farm to rest during the winter months. There was a small insurance on both animals, half-brothers, and both sired by Garry Herrinann. Governor Gray's dam was Selama, County Tax was out of Tact-
